

BOTH SIDES CLAIM IT.

THE CLOSE CONTEST FOR THE MAYORALTY OF CHICAGO.

IT WILL TAKE THE OFFICIAL COUNT

To Decide Who Has Won—Charges of Fraud by Both Parties—Carter Harrison Retires to Private Life.

CHICAGO, April 8.—1:40 p. m.—Comptroller Onaham still insists that he knows of no reason for changing his previous statement that the returns, as received at the city hall, apparently show Mayor Cregier to have been re-elected by a small plurality. Mr. Onaham said his figures made last night had been gone over today by other persons and that the result was substantially unchanged—the revision giving the victory to Cregier, the democratic candidate, by a lead of 235 votes over Washburne, the republican. Mr. Onaham added that the city hall returns, upon which this computation was based, were not official returns and that the latter in such a close contest might, of course, give the palm to the republicans or show a more decided plurality for the democrats.

THE REPUBLICANS CHARGE FRAUD. Colonel Nye, chairman of the republican campaign committee, went before the election commissioners this morning and requested that two members of his committee be permitted to remain on guard over the vault, in which the returns and documents are preserved, night and day until the official canvass has taken place.

"My reasons for asking this," he said, "are amply sufficient. I am informed, upon unquestionable authority, that Mayor Cregier has declared that no circumstance can remove him from his office for two years. That seems to me to warrant extraordinary precautions against fraud."

It was decided to hold a consultation with Judge Scales this afternoon before giving a definite reply.

THE BOXES GUARDED. The election commissioners finally agreed that two men should be permitted to remain in the vault room until the official canvass commences tomorrow. As an additional precaution, the combination was changed on the safe containing the official returns. Subsequently, Chairman Nye asked that the judges of the fifteenth precinct of the twenty-ninth ward be prosecuted for refusing to admit Anton Pophal, challenger of the republican and citizens' parties, to the polling room. Nye stated that of 505 registered voters in that precinct, 874 are shown to have voted, a strangely large proportion, and that of these 452 recorded for Cregier and only six for Washburne, and sixteen for the other three candidates. He said that he had strong suspicions that fraud had been resorted to in several precincts, and he was engaged in ferreting out the perpetrators.

THE STRUGGLE AT MIDNIGHT. At midnight tonight both republicans and democrats were claiming to be victors in the exciting election for the mayoralty. Each side, however, has practically minimized its claim to the plurality of 200 or 300. The official count, to begin tomorrow, is being awaited with impatience, the narrowness of margin for either party, and charges of fraud, are making the suspense almost distressing.

The democrats put forward the assertion that in scores of instances votes for Elmer Washburne, the citizens' candidate, were deliberately counted for Hempstead Washburne, the republican nominee, the substitution being facilitated by a similarity of names. On the other hand, the republicans protest that in one precinct alone at the stock yards over 100 votes were deposited for names that were refused registration, and that some of the names are those of persons who have been dead for weeks or months.

In this particular precinct, it is charged, affairs were so manipulated that every clerk and clerk, without exception, were democrats, and the plurality for Cregier was something abnormal. Not a few people are inclined to believe that many alleged mistakes and changes in the estimates were in the interests of the gambling fraternity, and were designed to give certain big book-makers a chance to hedge on the result.

CARTER HARRISON DISGUSTED. Carter Harrison announces that he will leave political life and Chicago for good. He says he will either travel or go on a farm. About the Cregier wing of the democracy, Mr. Harrison said today in an interview:

"It was in line with the action for the last two months—fraudulent, intimidating, corrupting and disgraceful. It was a revelation to me, for I never before attended the polls in the hoodlum districts. Wilder and more disgraceful orgies; more besotted savagery and open appeals to buyers of votes could not exist in the most ignorant of southern plantation districts."

THE WOMEN SURPRISED THEM. TOPKA, Kan., April 8.—The result of the municipal elections in this state has been a surprise to the republicans. In Topka and Fort Scott the women appear to have supported the citizens' ticket and elected mayors of both towns over the regular republican nominees.

Atchison and Kansas City, Kans., alone of all first-class cities elected republican mayors. In this city the election of Quanten, republican candidate, was conceded by the democrats at 2 o'clock this afternoon, but in wards that had not reported at that time, a heavy white woman's vote was polled, electing it is believed, Coffey, the democrat, by 130 plurality.

The wives of several of the best known republicans in the state, it is said, banded themselves together and voted for the democrat, giving as their reason that the republicans had organized the negro vote. The same, it is reported, is true in Leavenworth, Fort Scott and Emporia.

THE FLORIDA SENATORSHIP. Colonel Dunn Has No Chance, but the Alliance Is on Hand.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 8.—[Special.]—The Florida senatorial race is about a repetition of the Georgia campaign. Colonel Dunn, the National banker, has failed to secure but a small following from the alliance. Call, the present senator, will carry almost one-third of the alliance, who are committed to his support even as against an alliance candidate. The alliance was in caucus last night from 7 o'clock to 12, without reaching a result. Call has developed unexpected strength today. He has a clear majority. Dunn is practically out of the race. The alliance will put an alliance man in the race, and force Call's supporters in the alliance to desert him or their colors.

THE LAST SURVIVOR Of the Fort Mims Massacre in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 8.—[Special.]—A. J. Morris died yesterday at his home, in Hefflin, Cleburne county, Alabama, aged one hundred years. He was the last survivor of the fifteen persons who escaped from the Fort Mims massacre, the bloodiest tragedy in Alabama's history. The massacre occurred in July, 1813, during the Creek war. Five hundred and fifty-three people were in the fort in Clark county, and were just going to dinner, when the gates opened, and all feeling secure, when 1,000 Indians made the attack. Many of the inmates were women and children, and all were butchered and burned except the fifteen who got out at the close of the battle. Morris was Mississippi volunteer and with two companions leaped the stockade, beneath which the Indians were crouching. He was wounded in the shoulder as he made his run to the neighboring swamp. He settled many years ago in Hefflin county, where he reared a numerous family. He was entitled to a pension, but somehow never drew it. While illiterate, he was intelligent and had much native shrewdness. He died a very poor man.

THE PATENT CENTENNIAL. Senator Daniel Speaks of the Large List of Inventors from the Southern States.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—At the evening session of the patent centennial, Senator Daniel, of Virginia, was the first and principal speaker, taking for his subject "The New South as an Outgrowth of Invention and the American Patent Law." He spoke in the highest terms of practical invention and its work, and pointed with pride to the long list of inventors from the southern states. The fact that in the year 1890, 3,000 patents were granted to southern men showed, he contended, that the south would soon rival the north in every branch of invention.

BURNING LUMBER. A Planing Mill in Chattanooga Is Totally Destroyed.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 8.—[Special.]—The Stivers planing mill, near the East Tennessee railroad bridge, was burned to the ground at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Stivers estimates his loss at $10,000; the insurance is only $4,100. About $5,000 in stock, including the horses and lumber saved, was rescued from the flames.

About 3:30 o'clock this morning the watchman for the planing mill started a fire in the engine, which was the usual time for firing. He then went to the stables adjoining the mill for the purpose of feeding the stock. A few minutes later he saw flames issuing from the second story of the mill and discovered that half of the combustible building was the body of the fire. After turning in the alarm the watchman, with the aid of several men, who had arrived on the scene, liberated the horses confined in the stable. The office was saved, as were all the books and records of the concern. The planing mill, about 60x100 feet in dimensions, and two stories high, was a total loss, and all the dressed lumber and machinery in the building were destroyed. The lumber in the yards also added to feed the fierce flames and a small stable adjoining the mill also ascended in smoke.

REV. MR. HARKS INDICTED. A Suit Growing Out of a War Between Religious Papers.

DALLAS, Tex., April 8.—The grand jury has returned two indictments for criminal libel against Rev. E. B. Harkins, a noted Baptist divine and editor of the Western Baptist. He is charged with libeling Rev. E. B. Hardy, L. R. Scroggs, S. R. Grant and A. M. Johnson, all prominent preachers of the same faith. The offense consists in having charged in his paper that the divines were paid scandal mongers of the Texas Baptist and Herald and notorious liars. The indictments are the outcome of a bitter newspaper war between the Western Baptist and the Texas Baptist Herald. The accused papers declare that he will prove that the allegations are true when the case goes to trial. The legal contest bids fair to become a most sensational one. Rev. Harkins is one of the most eloquent preachers and forcible writers in Texas. He was raised in Alabama and located in Georgia and has filled pulpits in Alabama, Georgia and vicinity.

HE TALKED TOO MUCH. Arrest of a Man Supposed to Be the Head of a Gang of Robbers.

MOBILE, Ala., April 8.—J. Walker, of Richardson station, on the Mobile and Birmingham railroad, was arrested today at Richardson by Officer Morris, of this city, and Sheriff Mosely, of Washington county, on the charge that he is the head of a gang of train robbers who have been committing a series of robberies on the Mobile and Birmingham, and Louisville and Nashville railroads. Walker is said to have confessed his plans to a man named Georgia B. Ball, of Albion, N. Y., who gave him away to the police here. Walker admits telling such a story to Ball, but declares he was joking. Walker was heavily armed when captured and this was the first time he was seen with arms and ammunition in Mobile.

THREE HUNGARIANS WILL SWING. They Were in the Riot at Carnegie's Works on New Year's Day.

PITTSBURGH, April 8.—Andrew Todd, Michael Sobal and George Rushock, three Hungarians, convicted of the murder of Michael Quinn, who was killed in the labor riot at Carnegie's works at Braddock, Pa., last New Year's day, will be hanged.

This morning a motion for a new trial was overruled by Judge Stowe. The three prisoners were brought into court and sentenced to death. Before sentence was passed, Todd and Sobal protested their innocence. The condemned were then remanded to jail to await the signing of the death warrants by Governor Pattison.

MONEY OR BLOOD. A Tragedy in Alabama Over a Debt of Twenty-Five Cents.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 8.—Yesterday afternoon, sixteen miles southwest of Huntsville, Ala., Taylor Haynes cut Joe Taylor in the throat, killing him instantly. They quarreled over a debt of 25 cents that Townsend owed Haynes.

The Swindlers Were Indicted. New York, April 8.—The conspirators who tried to get hold of Loring A. Robertson's millions were all indicted today by the grand jury, with the exception of Lawyer John F. Baker. He proved to the satisfaction of the grand jury that he was not in league with them.

Those indicted are Lawyer Byron W. Cohen, James Daskin, Howard Belcher and Cassie Helen Daskin. The first three are charged with the subornation of perjury, and Miss Brooks with perjury. Daskin is still in Connecticut, but will be extradited. Cohen is out on bail.

A Miner Robbed. CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 8.—[Special.]—News was received here tonight of a robbery near Kershaw, S. C. James Gordon, employed by the Brower Mining Company, while returning to the mine from Kershaw, was attacked by two negroes and robbed of $1,200 belonging to the Brower Mining Company. The robbery occurred four miles from Kershaw, at 2 o'clock in the day. The parties are unknown. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for their apprehension. Much excitement has been created by this bold and fearless robbery.

Acquittal of Kincaid. WASHINGTON, April 8.—The jury in the case of Kincaid, newspaper correspondent, charged with the murder of ex-Congressman Tanabe, of Kentucky, tonight brought in a verdict of not guilty.

THE NEW GOVERNOR

WHO TAKES HOLD OF THE HELM IN NORTH CAROLINA.

THE CAREER OF GOVERNOR HOLT.

The Arrangements for the Funeral of the Late Governor Fowle—His Last Hours—Condolence from All Parts.

RALPH, N. C., April 8.—[Special.]—Lieutenant Governor Thomas M. Holt arrived here at 2 o'clock this afternoon, from Haw River, his home. He was met at the depot by Secretary of State Cooper, Auditor Sanderlin and Associate Justice Avery, and was escorted to the capitol where Chief Justice Merrimon administered the oath to him as governor, in the presence of the state officers.

Secretary of State Coke received the following telegram from Governor Philip W. McKinney, of Virginia:

TELEGRAMS OF CONDOLENCE. For myself and the people of Virginia, I desire to express my deep regret at the loss which North Carolina has just sustained in the death of her distinguished Governor. Please convey my personal sympathy and condolence to his family.

Adjutant General Glenn gave a conference this afternoon with a council of state officers. At this the following programme was adopted:

Hour of funeral 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon; services to be conducted by Rev. Dr. John S. Watkins, the governor's pastor. Order of formation of the procession:

Adjutant General Glenn and governor's staff. Military escort under command of Brigadier General John W. Catling.

Family and intimate friends. Governor Holt and state officers, justices of the supreme court.

Members of the legislature. Officers of state institutions. Municipal officers. Grand lodge and subordinate lodges of Masons and Odd Fellows.

Fire department. Citizens. Following were chosen as honorary pallbearers: Thomas M. Buebee, Thomas S. Kenan, E. G. Reade, Augustus S. Seymour, Rev. F. Battle, Thomas R. Jennings, James C. Moore, B. H. Park, James McKee, B. Andrews and Joseph.

All troops in the state have been officially invited to be present.

THE GOVERNOR'S DYING HOUR. Governor Fowle died with heart disease. He became sick Monday evening, but attributed it to indigestion. He was unable to get up yesterday that he expected to be at the executive office this morning.

Last night his younger children came to him while they studied their lessons to have him. His mind was clear, and he assisted his daughter to work a problem in arithmetic. He was in the best of spirits. Shortly afterwards he called his daughter Mary, and said:

"My little girl, I do not feel well, and I am glad you are here, and I feel that I may need you to sit up with me tonight."

His daughter Helen then came into the room again and the governor smilingly said:

"Helen, I am fainting," and fell back unconscious upon the pillow, to the consternation of the children. His elder daughter ran to him to render assistance, and the servants were summoned and sent after a physician, while Miss Helen also went after one. By the time they came back the governor was dead. He did not live five minutes after the fall.

The doctor thought he died of heart failure. State officers and many prominent citizens hurried to the executive mansion.

The body was at noon today taken to the capitol, escorted by troops and followed by all the state officers, and was laid in state. The capitol is draped in mourning, and the body is in the rotunda. An immense number of persons have viewed the remains this afternoon. All the public buildings and nearly all the business houses are in mourning.

GOVERNOR HOLT'S CAREER. Governor Thomas M. Holt, of Haw River, is the son of Edwin M. and Emily Holt, of Alamance county. He was born July 15, 1831; was prepared for college at Caldwell institute, Hillsboro, and matriculated at the University of North Carolina in 1849, but so strong was he imbued with the spirit of his father, and being more fond of his factory than his college fame, he left Chapel Hill in 1851, when half-advised in the junior class, and at once addressed his time and talents to the manufacture of cotton yarns and fabrics in his father's employ until 1860, when a brick building 36x54, with only 528 spindles (now a wreck to the immense factory, known throughout the southern and eastern states as the Granite mill), he commenced business on his own account.

These mills are owned and managed by Governor Holt, and have recently been reconstructed, and are now a fine factory. He is situated on Haw River, near the North Carolina railroad, on the north side of the North Carolina, and rank with any in the southern states. They contain 8,424 spindles and 434 looms, and give constant employment to 425 men, women and children, who occupy 100 or more well-constructed and neatly painted brick and frame dwellings, situated on the premises; besides these dwellings there is a five-story flour mill; a large storehouse, filled with general merchandise, from which the operatives and neighbors get their supplies, a beautiful and conveniently arranged office; muddy store and warehouses, and last but not least, an attractive and comfortable chapel, in which Governor Holt and family and the operatives worship, and whose pulpit is filled at the governor's expense.

"Standing on the railroad bridge which spans Haw River, and looking out on the north side, are seen the cotton factories, four mills, dwellings and other buildings mentioned above, and it has the appearance of a large, thrifty and beautiful village; large, indeed, than many so-called towns, all owned by Colonel Holt, which cost him exceeding $400,000 when he first started out in business, and which he has since increased to $1,000,000, and is, perhaps, the largest, most elegantly finished and furnished country dwelling in North Carolina. The grounds cover twelve acres, are most highly improved and embellished, presenting the appearance of Central park, New York, in miniature. A more desirable home cannot be found. The grounds and the improvements cost $25,000. He is the owner of that famous plantation known as "Linwood," at Linwood station, on the North Carolina railroad, a few miles from Lexington. It is here he raises such vast quantities of wheat, clover, hay and choice cattle and sheep. The property herein described, with other not mentioned, together with the stock and lands he holds, makes his estate worth at least $500,000, the proceeds of his own industry."

Governor Holt was elected by the people of Alamance as a county commissioner two terms and served as chairman of the board of agriculture. He was elected to the house of representatives in 1862 and in 1864-66. He was elected speaker of the house in January, 1865. For twelve years he was president of the North Carolina Railroad Company. He has long been a member of the board of agriculture. For eight years he was president of the North Carolina State Agricultural Society. Before the war he was a magistrate and a member of the special court under the old county court system.

Governor Holt has been found a ready and liberal supporter of any measure tending to the progress of the state.

He was elected lieutenant governor on the same ticket with the late Governor Fowle.

LOOKING OVER THE FIELD. General Snowden in the Coke Regions Examining Into Affairs.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., April 8.—The coke situation was devoid of excitement today. Considerable surprise was occasioned this morning by the arrival of Division Commander General Snowden and his staff, in company with General McClellan and Wiley General Snowden visited the various works and personally looked over the field. Upon his report will depend the withdrawal of the Notices of election were placed in the constable's hands today. Ten days' notice to the constable will be served tomorrow on strikers who are occupying the coke regions. Every one who will not work will be forced to seek residence elsewhere. There is no doubt that the operators are preparing to import men and are anxious to get possession of their houses.

The operators are anxious to have the militia remain until after the elections and are trying to impress upon General Snowden the absolute necessity of guards at that time. There is talk of forming a volunteer regiment of national guardsmen to take the place of the state troops when they are withdrawn. This was done during the riot of 1877, the men remaining on duty three months. All expenses would be paid by the companies instead of by the state.

Thirty more men applied and were given work at Morewood today, making 126 now drawing coke.

A HORRIBLE ACCIDENT at the Tuscaloosa Opera House.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 8.—At Tuscaloosa Monday night the opera house was crowded to see an amateur performance, which closed with a tableau representing the goddess of liberty on a throne, surrounded by thirty-four fairies, impersonated by little girls. They were dressed in stately robes, and the curtain was up a spark fell from the lighted torch which Miss Mabel McEachen, goddess of liberty, held aloft, and fell on the dress of little Irene Hayes. She was instantly enveloped in flames and ran screaming to the footlights, where two young men from the audience seized her and extinguished the fire. As she passed the other girls, little Ethel Black's dress caught also, but was put out before she was seriously burned. Irene Hayes was fatally burned.

FOUND DEAD IN THE CUPOLA. Two Workmen Suffocated in the New City Hall of Richmond.

RICHMOND, Va., April 8.—John Belton, a workman on the new city hall, was found dead in the man-hole leading to the cupola this morning. He and a fellow-laborer had been at work on the boiler in the cupola and should have left at 5 o'clock yesterday evening. They were missed today and a search was instituted. The body was found in the cupola, and the fellow-laborer, who was in the boiler, was unconscious. The latter revived, but his mind seems to be affected.

THE GRAND JURY Which Is Investigating the New Orleans Tragedy.

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.—[Special.]—The grand jury met yesterday and actively entered upon the investigation of the lynching of the eleven Italians in the Parish prison. Attorney General Rogers was present assisting the grand jury in its work. Among the witnesses examined during the day were W. D. Parker, leader of the mob, and Italian Consul Pasquale Corio, and secretary. It is understood the original list of the committee of safety that made the call upon the people to attack the prison was filed with the grand jury.

MYSTERIOUS MRS. MASSEY. Her Brother Does Not Believe She Has Committed Suicide.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—L. McIntosh, of Douglasville, brother of Mrs. Massey, an account of whose alleged troubles were published, arrived here, gives a statement that adds additional mystery to the affair. Mr. McIntosh says Mrs. Massey is in perfect health, has plenty of money and friends, and has no excuse for acting as she has in threatening suicide. She was traced from Brunswick to Albany, thence to Jacksonville and last night of He will continue his search until Mrs. Massey is found. The threatened suicide is supposed to be a fake to mislead her friends.

North Carolina's Geological Survey. RALPH, N. C., April 8.—[Special.]—The geological survey of North Carolina begins in June, in Ashe county, in the extreme northwestern part of the state. The United States geological survey will begin its work on the new topographical map of the state at the same time, and in the same region. It is contemplated that the two will work together. Next month a full equipped corps of government engineers and geologists will be sent to the field. The government is manifesting much interest in the survey.

"Fisherman" Brown Is Dead. FLORENCE, S. C., April 8.—[Special.]—W. D. Brown, known as Fisherman Brown, an old Confederate soldier, was found dead by the side of the railroad track this morning. It is supposed he had been drinking and fell from the track. The incoming train from Columbia knocked him off. His back was broken and other internal injuries were sustained. Death was instantaneous.

THEIR BLOODY WORK.

THE MAFIAS ON TRIAL IN THEIR OWN COUNTRY.

SCENE IN AN ITALIAN COURT OF JUSTICE.

Hundreds of a Secret Society on Trial for Murders They Have Committed—Witnesses Explain How They Manage.

ROME, April 8.—The trial at Bari of 179 members of the Mala Vita Society excites intense interest. The accused occupy two galleries, secured by strong iron bars. Most of the prisoners are masons and coopers, and are young and well dressed, but many are well-known criminals.

Strong police and military forces preserve order in the precincts of the court. The examination of 207 witnesses for the prosecution and 425 for the defense commences on Monday, and will last the whole week. The majority will plead absolute ignorance of the society. A few will admit that they wounded certain persons by order of the society under fear of death. A Neapolitan, who said he had been asked to pay to keep his name from the list of informers, revealed the names of many members of the society, including the president.

THEIR SOCIETY DESCRIBED. A prisoner named Passaquindolli denounced seventy members and declared that there were 220 more not yet arrested. He described the society as divided into Camorristi, Piodotti, and Giovanotti, the lower grades being subject to the higher. This evidence and that of other informers caused great excitement in court.

The prisoners shouted and gesticulated to their friends in the court, and the uproar that ensued amounted almost to a riot. Seven of the prisoners are tattooed with curious devices. Thirty counsel are employed for the defense.

THEY DESIRE LARGE INDEMNITY. Italian Papers Say the Government Must Demand American Dollars.

ROME, April 8.—The Messagero, of this city, announces that, upon the reassembling of the chamber of deputies, the premier, Marquis di Rudini, will submit the correspondence exchanged between the United States and Italian governments on the subject of the New Orleans lynchings. The Messagero says that this correspondence will testify to the success achieved by Marquis di Rudini in the international dispute, and declares that President Harrison's dispatch to King Humbert, expressing the greatest sympathy with Italy and the house of Savoy, requested King Humbert's assistance in the attempts being made to reconcile the interests of the two nations, as far as consistent with his dignity.

King Humbert, continues the Messagero, in reply to this letter from President Harrison, said that he entirely approved the conduct of the Italian government, and adding at the same time that he hoped and desired that an agreement should be arrived at.

Contrary to the foregoing, many well-informed people here declare that the Favre incident was precipitated on account of the New Orleans affair in order to afford the Italian ministry reasons for its failure to effect promised reductions in the army, navy and other national expenditures.

The publication of the Messagero attracted a good deal of attention, but it is said, on positive authority, that the Messagero was mistaken. The king has received no dispatch from President Harrison nor sent one to him, the entire correspondence on the New Orleans subject having been conducted between the state departments of the two countries.

FLON-FLON'S WILL Ignores Prince Victor and Speaks of Him as a Rebel.

ROME, April 8.—The will of the late Prince Napoleon is remarkably precise. In the direction for obsequies, the prince forbids the presence of his oldest son, Prince Victor, in three distinct passages. He asks that his remains be buried in St. Jerome chapel, church of Invalides, Paris, near the tomb of Napoleon I, unless the government refuses permission, in which case he desires that his body be entombed in a cave carved out of the solid rock on the Isles Sanguinaires, in the Gulf of Ajaccio, "where my grave may be wave-beaten in the image of my stormy life." He asks Prince Louis to read the correspondence that passed between his parents and recites the deed of separation in which Princess Clotilde declared that Prince Jerome had separated from her on political grounds.

Prince Napoleon upbraids Prince Victor as a rebel, and totally ignores him in the disposal of his property. He instructs that his private papers be destroyed and that his political papers be classified and be given to Prince Louis, who receives the whole of the property, except convenient to his needs, including the two conveniences to Princess Clotilde, to be chosen by herself, and a lock of the first Napoleon's hair to Princess Letitia.

The reading of the will was a painful ceremony. When the passage excluding the rest of the family was reached, Prince Louis ran to his mother and frantically embraced her, crying:

"Never, never, dear mother, we are co-heirs." He then kissed Prince Victor and his sister. All were tearful. It is stated that the will would not have been so resolved, while the ex-Empress Eugenie applauded, to divide the property equally among the members of the family.

WOULD NOT PROPOSE THE TOAST. A Sensation at a Congressional Meeting.

LONDON, April 8.—At a dinner given yesterday evening by the Devon Congregational Union at Tavistock, Devonshire, a sensation was caused by the presiding minister, Rev. E. Davis, who said that he could not propose the toast of "The Queen" and that he would, therefore, ask upon Rev. Mr. Johnson to perform this task. Mr. Davis added that he (Johnson) might also toast the price of Wales and all gaublers if he chose to do so.

Mr. Johnson, consequently proposed the toast of "The Queen," saying that her majesty had no more loyal subjects than the dissenters. Thereupon the assemblage, with the exception of Rev. Mr. Davis and his wife, rose to their feet and sang the national anthem, "God Save the Queen."

THEY WERE MURDERED. Quinton and His Comrades Put to Death by the Mafias.

SMILA, April 8.—A letter has been received here from the leader of the Mafias declaring that Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton and all his colleagues, who were taken prisoners at the attack upon the British residency at Manipur, have been murdered.

This news is believed here. There has been further fighting at Manipur, and another British officer has been killed. It is presumed that this officer is either Lieutenant Grant, who commanded the British force which recently captured Fort Thabat, near Manipur, or Captain Presgrave, who was in command of a detachment of British troops sent to Lieutenant Grant's relief.

BEFORE THE FEDERAL COURT. All the Lawyers Put in An Unexpected Appearance.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 8.—[Special.]—All the lawyers in the Coosaw case turned up in the United States court today, like so many little jokers, greatly to the surprise of everybody. The impression having been entertained that they were still in Aiken arguing the case in the state court. The same arguments followed, Mr. McClellan being heard for the Coosaw and Attorney General Pope for the state. The state put in a plea to the jurisdiction. The only event that occurred to live up to the proceedings was a skirmish between the attorney general and Mr. Smythe. After the two had mutually explained the spot that occurred yesterday, the attorney general in the course of his argument intimated that charges had been made that, in the beginning of the Coosaw's life, there was something connected with legislation that was handsomely referring to the charges that the scalawag legislature of 1870 had been bribed to grant the charter. Mr. Smythe intimated that this was not the case. The attorney general replied that if the Coosaw company behaved itself he would not rake up these old scores, but if it did not the strong arm of the law would clean it by the nape of the neck and swing it clean out. Mr. Smythe said he would be glad to have him do so. At this point argument was adjourned until tomorrow. It has not yet transpired what has become of the case before Judge Aldrich. The appearance of the counsel here was a surprise to everybody. It is rumored that Judge Aldrich is holding the opinion until the case is decided by Judge Simonton. The attorney general, in his argument, reported a very impressive case. He would not compromise, but would carry the fight on against everybody and everything except the United States.

CHATTANOOGA GOSSIP. President Harrison Will Be Entertained Next Wednesday.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 8.—[Special.]—The county court, which has just adjourned, appropriated $500 to entertain President Harrison during his visit here next Wednesday. The city council made a like appropriation last night.

Judge Warder, who killed his son-in-law, Fugate, on January 18th and was shot himself, was out this afternoon for the first time. He stood on the street for some time shaking hands and chatting with friends. He says he is feeling stronger than at any time in the past three months. The effects of the terrible ordeal through which he has passed have not changed his appearance as much as some people had expected.

A strike of all the carpenters in the city is imminent. The carpenters' union will demand the central hall of the city. The union has the support of the Federation of Trades. The strike may be made at any hour.

A Poor Man Loses Money. GRIFFIN, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Mr. T. McKibben, a section boss on the Atlanta and Florida railroad, had the misfortune to lose his purse and $385 in money on yesterday, near Crosswicks. The money was lost by Mr. McKibben as lost, was twelve $20 and one $5 greenback bills, and seven $20 gold pieces. Some of the bills were very old and greatly worn, which may prove a loss to the recovery of the lost money. Mr. McKibben says there were no notes or anything in the purse to determine who the loser was, but the finder of the above described bills, who will return them to him at Zella, Ga., will be liberally rewarded. He is a hard-working man, and it is hoped he may recover his lost wealth.

THE FARMERS COMING IN. NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 8.—[Special.]—Governor Buchanan has appointed Mr. J. M. Dowell to be coal and oil inspector at Nashville for two years, beginning April 15th. THE GEORGIA BAPTISTS

RIGHT INTO THE MIDDLE OF IMPORTANT BUSINESS.

Reports Presented Which Show the Progress of Church Work—Some Lively Items of Debate.

HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—The Baptist convention has gotten well into its work and the members are already beginning to warm up. This morning Rev. J. E. L. Holmes developed surprising marksmanship as a sharpshooter. Governor Northern, who sat on the pulpit platform, was the target and the shot which reached him was a reference to the Gould episode. It was first off-hand in the heat of debate, but hit the mark and brought the governor to his feet instantly.

Notwithstanding his personal nature, the sparring was good humored and the governor kept his equanimity and finally made the point he set out to make.

The first business of the morning session was the report of the executive committee, which was read and referred.

The first important action to come up was the election of a successor to the late Dr. J. H. DeVotie, as corresponding secretary of the state mission board. There were two opinions, as to the proper method of making the selection. Rev. J. E. L. Holmes moved that he be elected by the convention in order that the disappointed applicants and their friends might not feel coldly toward the state mission board, as he feared they would feel that body should take the responsibility of selection.

Dr. J. William Jones offered a substitute which referred the choice of secretary to the state mission board hereafter to be elected. Dr. Jones thought Mr. Holmes did not exaggerate the importance of the officers to be elected, and the fitness of the brethren under consideration should be carefully canvassed.

This could not be done in open convention and could best be done by the state mission board, which would be composed of experienced men, well acquainted with the duties of the office and the qualifications needed. He deprecated Mr. Holmes' expression "applicants," and hoped there were none for this position. There were sometimes "applicants" for political positions, but such a thing was unheard of in the Baptist church.

A discussion of some length followed, in which Dr. Thorpe opposed the substitute, Rev. A. J. Beck favored, and Rev. Z. T. Weaver opposed it.

The opponents of the substitute talked democracy, which they said was characteristic of the Baptist church policy.

Dr. G. A. Nunnally gave a new turn to the discussion by moving, as an amendment to the substitute, that the officers be elected one for north Georgia, one for south Georgia and one for middle Georgia.

Rev. W. L. Kilpatrick, president of the board of trustees of Mercer university, favored Dr. Jones' substitute and thought there might be something in Dr. Nunnally's amendment. The matter should be left to the mission board, as they needed time to investigate. He rose to a question of privilege concerning the mention of his own name in connection with the vacancy. If the office were tendered him by the unanimous vote of the convention, he would not touch it with a forty-foot pole, for he was totally incompetent. He was sorry for the brother who should get into that place.

Rev. J. L. Underwood of Camilla, favored the election of the secretary by the mission board. If the convention should be called on to elect an engineer for the state railroad, none here would know who to vote for, and he felt that it would be about as unwise for the convention, in open session, to undertake to elect this officer.

Governor Northern here came to the elucidation of the matter, and made a strong common-sense speech. "What," said he, "is the wisdom of the mission board? When the stockholders of a railroad elect directors, they let the directors elect the president and other officers. Some of the other brethren argue that it is not democratic for the state mission board to elect the secretary. If that were true, the whole matter would have to be remanded to the Baptist people of Georgia. Their argument proves too much for the object of their motion."

Mr. Holmes, replying, referred to the election of officers of the national government, and wondered that the governor should take an illustration from the custom in railroad circles.

"Why," said he, "it was not long ago that his excellency was invited to an entertainment to meet a layman, and he absolutely refused to go. Now he brings up railroad precedents to govern the proceedings of a convention representing the Baptists of Georgia."

Here President Kilpatrick's gavel interrupted the speaker.

"I will have to call the brother to order," said he.

"Well," said Mr. Holmes, "it is not often that I have the pleasure to cut a governor, and I embraced this one."

Governor Northern arose and said: "Mr. Holmes, who elects the president of the United States, the pope or the pope's representative?"

Unembarrassed by this apt question, Mr. Holmes replied:

"Who elects the governor of Georgia?"

This shot was well taken by laughter.

"If I slipped up on national politics I am even on Georgia government," said Mr. Holmes.

The governor in perfect good humor came back again.

"I will ask, Mr. Holmes, who elects the senator who represents Georgia in the United States senate?"

"The people elect the legislators," said Mr. Holmes, "and delegate to them the power of electing senators."

"That is exactly the kind of power that I want this body to delegate to the mission board," said the governor.

Dr. A. B. Campbell favored the substitute, and Hon. A. D. Freeman called the previous question on Mr. Jones' amendment, which was adopted.

Mr. Golden took up a collection and got $488 more for the Brunswick church. A collection of $23 was also taken for the Tifton church, by Mr. W. W. Webb.

NINE GOT OUT OF JAIL

STATE PRISONERS OUT THROUGH THE ROOF

And Are in the Act of Descending a Rope Made of Blankets When They Are Detected and Recaptured.

Nine prisoners cut their way through the roof of the Fulton county jail last night. And for more than a half hour breathed the air of freedom.

But now they are all securely chained in the dungeon.

Today they will be shackled and fastened to the floor in their cells and escape will hereafter be much more difficult.

The detection of the men before they could leave the roof of the jail was purely accidental.

And in the recapture of the prisoners one of them was severely wounded in the leg.

The escape was made through the ceiling in cell No. 20 on the second floor of the jail, north side. In the cell were Bob Badger, Nelson Williams, Henry Barry, Bob Dozier, Joe Washington and Jim Williams.

The work was done by these men, assisted by Pete Harwell, Bill Lumpkin and Charley Butler who had been confined in cell five on the lower floor of the jail.

The cut out was made some time during the afternoon.

But the men did not leave the jail until about 7 o'clock last night.

A lady who has been conducting religious services at the jail, was given the corridor yesterday afternoon. For more than an hour she read and talked to the prisoners. Singing was a part of the exercises, too, and Badger now says that the work was begun while the singing was going on. After getting a start the work could be prosecuted so quietly that no one in the hall just outside could hear it.

The cell is the one from which four prisoners tried to escape a month ago. At that time several bricks were removed from the wall, and after the discovery the wall was repaired. In repairing the wall the workmen did not use cement, as they had been instructed, consequently it was not a hard task to tear the brick away. The men began this work about four feet from the ceiling, and as they went up, dug deeper and deeper in. So deep into the wall did they dig that the ends of the joists were left exposed. As they removed the dirt and bricks they threw them above the ceiling until the hole made was large enough for a man to pass around the ends of the timber and climb into the loft.

After completing the work the prisoners left the cell, closing the door behind them. They moved through the corridors with their prisoners until they reached the roof. Then they sought their cells again, and as the doors were locked the six men in No. 20 tried diligently to work making a rope out of blankets. The cells were all locked, and then Jailer Jordan turned out the relief for cleaning up. Harwell, Lumpkin and Butler were taken out of No. 5 as a part of the gang.

Soon after beginning the work the three negroes went up stairs, and assisted by those in No. 20 broke the door lock. Then the negroes crawled through the hole and made their way along under the roof until they reached an air shaft. Here they broke their way through the slate and crawled out upon the roof. With them they had their rope blanket, and approaching the rear end of the jail threw off one end and began making the other fast.

But unfortunately for them they tossed the blanket off at the wrong moment.

Mr. John Faith, one of the jailers, was making his last round in the yard before going off duty and turned the corner just as the end of the blanket touched the ground. Springing back he was thunderstruck by seeing the group of negroes standing on the roof. The negroes discovered Mr. Faith almost as soon as he saw them and began scattering.

Mr. Faith gave the alarm and at the same time made a dive for the blanket. The negroes had not yet made it secure on top of the building and a strong pull released it. Having cut off that means of escape Mr. Faith, assisted by Jailer Jordan and Assistant Miller, Thompson and Ivy, Patrolman Wright and Bailiff Williams, surrounded the jail. Every time a negro showed his head a pistol or a Winchester popped. One negro hid behind a chimney and Jailer Jordan shot at him four or five times before he would leave his place. From a window in the upper part of the front building the officers could see that the roof was clear. While some of the men remained on the outside, Miller and Faith went in the jail to look for the prisoners.

All but Badger, Nels Williams and Joe Washington were in the jail.

Then was a thorough search made for these. It lasted more than an hour.

After looking everywhere the officers concluded that the three had gotten away. Finally they decided to go into the cupola and the main building. Mr. Miller threw up the trapdoor. It was as dark as a dungeon. He could see nothing. But as he threw up the door some one called out:

"Don't shoot; I'll come out."

It was Badger, and as he came down he was covered with cobwebs, which had been gathering there for years. About the same time Mr. Faith was nearly ready to give up search, when he observed something on a rafter. Pointing his pistol that way, he remarked:

"That's that."

"That's me, boss; I'm coming down, too, if you don't shoot."

"Then come quick," was the answer.

Washington came down and Mr. Faith then discharged his pistol toward the darkest corner in the cupola. Before the echo died away a yell came from the corner.

"Come, that's that," was the answer.

Williams crawled out with a hole in his leg. This made the nine men. They were placed in the dungeon and today will be chained.

Dozier is charged with assault to murder. But for the quick and energetic work of the jail guards, the negroes would have made good their escape. Deputy Sheriff Blount was quickly upon the ground.

IN A CROOKS' SACK

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—A case of awful cruelty was discovered this morning. At 6 o'clock Mr. Jim Nicholas, passing along the road, in the rear of the tobacco factory on the western edge of the city, heard something crying in a clump of shrubbery a few feet to the left. He investigated, and found a white male infant trapped in a crooks' sack. The poor little thing was hardly more than a day old, and was perfectly red from head to foot with cold. The man picked it up tenderly, and took it to the office of Magistrate Conners, in Harrisburg. It is a stout, healthy little fellow. Just so soon as warmth was restored to its body, it became alert and lively. Efforts were being made to unearth the cruel people who deserted the child, but so far, no clue has been found. Several families immediately made application to Judge Conners for the child, but he refused to give any steps until Judge Ely had been seen.

DYEHOUSE BURNED.

A Fire in Augusta Yesterday Destroyed $5,000 Worth of Damage.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—The dyehouse of the Sibley dye works was destroyed by fire at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. The blaze broke out in the steam yarn drying machine. The origin is unknown. About 400 yards of yarn were on the rolls of a dryer, which is filled inside with steam pipes, which were heated at the time. The fire caught the roof, and quickly spread over the entire building, which is a brick house in the rear of the main factory building. The damage done was principally to the machinery, and will foot up about $5,000, of this sum $3,000 on the Sibley dye works, and $2,000 on the Augusta dye works. A large quantity of dye, which cost $5 a pound, was also lost. The mill sustains no loss, as the destroyed property was fully insured in the Southern Manufacturers' Association. AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Hon. Martin V. Calvin has accepted the editorship of the South Atlantic, a journal published at Augusta. He will take editorial charge of the editorial views. Mr. Calvin is well known as an able and popular writer, and will without doubt make the South Atlantic a great success. Agriculture is to be the leading feature, and all that relates to the interest of the farmers will be discussed boldly. It will also contain articles upon other topics suitable for farm reading, and the purpose is to make a bright and interesting family magazine.

HE WAS ONLY DRUNK.

But 2,000 People Thought He Was a Dead "Nigger."

AMERICA, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—When the engineer of the through freight on the Central road reached here at 2 p. m., Monday, he reported a dead negro lying near the track about a mile and a half from the city. The news spread rapidly, and a crowd of people gathered for the man. The first to know of it was Agent Maxwell, who, with Clerk Dow, left on the 2:30 passenger train to find the body. Captain Williams, the roadmaster, also went along.

The other people had to walk, and among the number was a Times-Recorder reporter. Reaching the crossing he was told that the dead man was about a half mile up the track. After walking about this distance, he was told "was a half mile further. Then Agent Maxwell was sent coming back. "It's about three quarters of a mile further," said he, and off went the reporter. A perfect stream of people were going, and all seemed determined to see the man.

Mr. Maxwell went up on the train, and about three miles from the city saw a man lying apparently dead, with his head between the rails of the track. Leaving the train Mr. Maxwell and others rushed to the body.

After feeling it for some time and discovering that the man was still alive, they were the negro gasped and opened his eyes. He was dead-drunk. This broke up the crowd. The negro was soundly berated in strong language and dragged from his dangerous position. Nobody was informed as to the truth, and about 2,000 people kept waiting that "quarter of a mile further," looking for the dead negro.

THE BOYS DISAPPOINTED

Because They Will Be Unable to Visit the Gate City.

ATHENS, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—The Glee and Banjo Clubs are disappointed badly in not being able to visit Atlanta and give their exhibition at that place. The boys did so well in their rehearsals, and their enthusiasm was such a success that they were very anxious to repeat it before an Atlanta audience, but they have determined otherwise. The clubs held a meeting last night, and after a great deal of discussion, the subject resolved to give up their trip. The reason assigned is that the studies of the students who are members of the club, interfere with such exhibitions, and a higher nature than pleasure in musical entertainments. The clubs are under the management of Professor Campbell and will be kept up to the college, the visit will be made and the entertainment given.

A NOVEL SUIT.

Ninety-Five Cents Was the Amount Sued For and the Prosecutor Got Sixty-Five.

HARTWELL, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—A novel suit has been pending in the justice court for Royston district, Hart county, for two or three months. A. P. Burnett brought suit against J. I. R. for 95 cents, and the case was heard by R. H. Ridgeway, notary public, on the third Saturday in February, and discharged at the prosecutor's cost, whereupon Mr. Burnett appealed to a jury, and on last Saturday the jury returned a verdict for Mr. Burnett received judgment for the amount of 65 cents and cost.

A New Postoffice.

JACKSON, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Butts county will have a new postoffice at Hodges mill, with Mr. H. H. Stewart as postmaster. The name of the office will be decided upon very soon, when Mr. Stewart will receive his commission, and the office will be ready for business. The new office will be supplied as special from Jackson.

Tutt's Pills

are not "advertised to cure" all classes of diseases, but only such as result from a disordered liver, viz: Vertigo, Headache, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Costiveness, Bilious Colic, Flatulence, etc.

For these they are not warranted infallible, but as nearly so as it is possible to make a medicine. Price, 25c. per box. Sold everywhere.

A CHILDLESS HOME.

Smith and his wife have every luxury that money can buy, but there is one thing lacking to their happiness. Both are fond of children, but no little voices prattle, no little feet patter in their beautiful home. "I would give ten years of my life if I could have one healthy, living child of my own," Smith often says to himself. No woman can be the mother of healthy offspring unless she herself is in good health. If she suffers from female weakness, general debility, bearing-down pains and functional derangements, her physical condition is such that she cannot hope to have healthy children. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign and guaranteed remedy for all these ailments.

Worn-out, "run-down," feeble women, need Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It builds them up. It's a powerful, restorative tonic, or strength-giver—free from alcohol and injurious drugs. The entire system is renewed and invigorated. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, gives refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength.

It's the best and most successful medicine for women.

To the Trade:

We desire to call attention to some plain facts regarding the trade as it is and as it should be. There is a growing tendency on the part of buyers to select better materials. This is noticeable with many other signs of higher education in the art of purchasing.

Immediately after the war many people, in fact nearly all southerners, were left in a condition that forced them to rigid economy. Naturally many of them made the common mistake in using every honest means to secure the largest purchasing power with their very limited means. Many were forced to purchase a given number of yards of calico to go round to give each child a dress. There was no remedy, but cheap, shoddy goods. Mills were forced to make shoddies to meet the demand. That cycle of time in this growing and prospering country is an exploded fable of the past, and today the art of buying is in the ability to purchase the value of the amount of money spent. Now, as there is no value in shoddies, and as the trade "those who know how to buy" have discovered this fact. The markets are flooded with stuff offered and advertised that are high at any price and without intrinsic value. The time is past to do business in goods of that kind. Shoddies must take a back seat or be consigned to the most common uses. The sweepings from the factory floors can no longer be utilized for Dress Goods. Dress Goods create their value by first counting the cost of the raw material and then adding the cost of weaving. Every honest buyer is willing to pay a reasonable per cent on the cost of each yard of goods bought. In this way the weaver's family can live and pay house rent. Every yard of honest, first-class goods is in demand, and if any buyer gets them they will pay a profit on every yard.

The trade more than ever is demanding first-class goods, in fact the value of every dollar paid. They want wool for wool, silk for silk, linen for linen, and the time that rubbish and sweepings of warehouses and factories would satisfy any buyer is in the past. We have always tried to give value received for every dollar received. We have done more. We have sold for twenty-six years nothing that we could not recommend to the buyer. While we have always charged a profit we have guaranteed the fabric. We have kept the best always, with a full line of medium prices for the conservative buyers. Our trade has increased from year to year for over a quarter of a century, and today we cover over 30,000 square feet of floor room to meet the present demands of our growing trade. We find thousands coming annually to buy first-class goods, goods that we guarantee the prices to be as low as any house in the United States. If you desire low-priced goods ask for them. We have goods for all, and if you don't find just the thing you want we will not insist on a sale.

Compare prices and quality with samples from New York or anywhere else and you will be convinced that you can buy from us in any department of our business. For Dry Goods, Carpets, Furniture and Shoes and other goods before placing your orders.

Trade:

to call attention to the fact that the trade as it should be, growing tenfold better part of buy-ers' notices in the signs of the people, in fact, a condition of nature many of the means to purchase a yard of goods to give address. ELLINGTON IS IN.

SENATOR FROM THE TWENTY- FIFTH WANTS TO BE PRESIDENT.

Has Announced His Intention to Prom- inent Alliance—He is in the Race—The Third Entry.

THOMSON, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—State Senator C. H. Ellington has announced his candidacy for the presidency of the state alliance, the county alliance of McDuffie having had him to do so several days ago.

Senator Ellington has written letters to leading alliance throughout the state, announcing his candidacy, in which he makes a statement that if elected he will do so solely and solely for the purpose of building the order, and not with any view of pushing himself into any other office.

Mr. Ellington is the senator from the twenty-fifth district, composed of the counties of Wilkes, Columbia, McDuffie and Lincoln. He is quite a prominent statesman in the winter session of the general assembly, and was considered an earnest alliance man. He is an intimate friend of Congressman Tom Watson, and the two hold the most cordial personal and political relations. Senator Ellington has begun work in earnest, and he makes the third entry in the race for the presidency of the state alliance, the other two being President Livingston for selection, and Mr. Searcy, of Spalding.

Livingston Will Run.

A prominent alliance man at the Southern Alliance Exchange said yesterday to a Consti- tution reporter:

"Colonel Livingston will, of course, be com- pelled to allow the use of his name for re- election, but because he wants the office again, and because it is absolutely essential, from an alliance standpoint, that he should be re- elected."

"He, of course, really cares very little about it, and if he followed his personal inclination he would not consent to run again. But there is such a general demand for all parts of the state for him to make the race again that he could not refuse to do so."

"The truth of the matter is that if Living- ington did not make the race again he would be at once claimed as a victory for those who have been fighting him, and for the handful in the alliance who have ar- ranged themselves against him. The alliance is the state is overwhelmingly in favor of en- suring the present administration, the leaders of which have nine out of every ten alliance men in the state on their side. Should Living- ington yield and refuse to allow the use of his name again, it would be claimed that he had been run out of the field, and the victory would be disastrous to the alliance, which so overwhelmingly sustains him in the fight that has been made against him."

"Livingston will run, and he will be over- whelmingly re-elected. Indeed, I believe that the time the state alliance convention meets he will have no opposition."

SECRETARY BURKS SPEAKS.

at the Fulton County Alliance Passes Resolutions.

EAST POINT, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—The Fulton County Alliance met here this morn- ing, with a full attendance from all parts of the county.

The matter of most interest at the meeting was a series of resolutions fully endorsing President Livingston and the organ of the alliance and the present administration. State Secretary Burks was here and made a speech of about a half-hour long. The meet- ing was secret, but it is said that the secretary stated in a defense of his position.

In his speech, Secretary Burks dwelt on the alliance mission, cannot justify it, and in- stead that it had been doing all that it could to meet a very grave situation of affairs in the alliance.

The resolutions above referred to were then adopted almost unanimously, and the county delegate, Dr. Stone, was instructed to vote accordingly.

BURNED TO DEATH.

the Grandmother of Judge Speer Meets a Terrible Death.

EASTMAN, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. King, mother of Alderman J. B. King, and grandmother of Judge Emory Speer, died last evening at the advanced age of eighty-four, and her remains were taken to Perry to be interred in the family burial ground.

Mrs. King died from the effects of a burn she received day before yesterday. She was sitting her breakfast by the fire in one room, while the rest of the family was in the dining room.

It is thought she got up to put away the water and dishes, and getting too near the fire her clothes caught, and before any one reached her from the next room she was so severely burned that she did not recover from the effects.

MEMORIAL DAY IN ATHENS.

General Longstreet Cannot Attend the Ex- ecution.

ATHENS, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—The Ladies' Memorial Association is making pre- parations for celebrating memorial day in Athens on the 27th inst. They have invited General Longstreet to attend, but a letter from the general tells that he is unable to be present on account of bad health.

Colonel E. B. Upham, a talented young member of the Athens bar, will make the nation of the day.

In order to place headstones over the graves of the unknown Confederate soldiers in the cemetery, the Ladies' Memorial Association has obtained the consent of Mrs. Ploverman (Miss Hamilton) to deliver one of her famous lecture readings at the opera house, Friday evening. The proceeds will go to place these headstones in position.

UNDER THE WHEELS.

terrible Death of a Flagman on the Georgia Pacific Road.

TEMPLE, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Mr. Tom Passey, a flagman on the Georgia Pacific road, was killed here, being mangled beneath the wheels. The car of the depot here pro- ceeded nearly over the edge of the car boxes, and was higher than cars. It is supposed that one of these Mr. Passey was climbing, while the train was pulling out from the sidetrack, and the morning mail train had passed east, and was caught between the car and the wheels and rolled and mangled to death between them. He fell at the base of the main post, a mangled heap of humanity.

DIME NOVEL HEROES.

the Capture of Three Runaway Boys from Washington County.

DOVER, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Three Washington county boys were in our town a few days ago making their way south without the consent of their parents. Two were from the county of Milledgeville, and the other was from the county of Wilkes. The two boys were taken by their fathers and carried back home, the other went on his way rejoicing and perhaps will be like the prodigal son. All three of the boys have good and kind parents and have been well cared for.

A New Railroad Deal.

through semi-official sources that negoti- ations for funds for one of the railroad lines from Chattanooga via Macfarland Gap, the National Park and Poplar Springs Gap, to this point, are about perfected and that the early start of the survey will be commenced in earnest. The present names and line of railroad are being discussed.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

A Battle Between the Greens and Fields in Which the Women Take a Hand.

ALPHARETTA, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—The battle fought at Macepapa on Tuesday last, between the Green and Fields families, is still the talk of the town. The families live near each other on Mr. J. Sims' farm. A call be- longing to Mr. Fields was running at large, and was taken up by some of the Green fam- ily. The women fell out about it, and after a war of words went to knocking and pulling hair. The heads of the two families came up each other, the fight was going on, and pitched into busy fighting, when the combatants, were passing along the road and undertook to sepa- rate the women, who were pulling hair, but the fingers of each one were locked in the hair of the other, and they could not pull them apart.

The one Mr. Buice took hold of bit him on the arm. This was a gentle hint that he wished to be let alone. After they were all tired down the fight ceased.

Mr. Green swore out a warrant for the Fields family, and included Mr. Buice and Mr. Sprouse; and Mr. Fields swore out a warrant for all the Green family.

The cases were heard by 'Judge' Morton, who, after hearing all the evidence, required Mr. Green and Fields to give a bond of $50 each, or go to jail, and discharged the balance of them. Mr. Fields gave bond, but Mr. Green could not make a bond and was put to jail, and remained there until Saturday, when he made a bond and was released, giving Mr. S. R. Autrey as surety.

TO EXHUME THE BODY

In Order to Find if She Was the Victim of Poison.

CARNESVILLE, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Dr. Ramsey and Buttrick, of this place, and Coroner W. H. Morrow, left here this morn- ing for Nails creek church, to exhume the body of Mrs. J. M. Glover, and take out the stomach, heart, blood and such other parts of the body of Mrs. Glover as is neces- sary to show whether she was poisoned or not, and send them to Dr. H. C. White, at Athens, to make an analysis of it. Upon this report depends the whole case for the prosecution. If there is no poison found Dr. Glover will never be found guilty, though the circumstantial evidence against him is very strong, and public opinion generally is against him, but he will be acquitted if no positive poison is found.

The woman in the case, Miss Ellen Mc- Dowell, is still lingering around. She is some two or three miles from town, and no doubt will remain and not leave, as it was thought she would.

This case, when it comes to trial, will attract as much attention as the Mrs. McKee trial in Rome.

AN UNCOMMUNICATIVE PRISONER.

W. Thomas Carey, the other inmate of the jail who is charged with murder, is uncommu- nicative, and has employed no counsel. But very little is known about the evidence in the case, as no one knows what was brought out before the grand jury, and all the parties who know anything are slow to talk about who killed William G. Stanley.

The next term of our superior court will witness two trials for murder from the present outlook.

LOVE AND SHOTGUNS.

Desperate But Vain Attempts of a Young Couple to Elope.

ALPHARETTA, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—A course of true love was not exactly as smooth as a railroad to Mr. G. T. Burge, of Alpha- retta, and Miss Sallie Mathis, daughter of Mr. Hiram Mathis, of Duluth. Mr. Burge is the mail contractor, and carries the mail from Alpharetta to Duluth. Mr. Mathis is the post- master at Duluth, and his daughter, Miss Sallie, who assists her father in the postoffice, made the acquaintance of Mr. Burge at the postoffice. The young couple were soon deeply in love, and became engaged about a month ago. The girl's parents objected to the match and the lovers decided to elope and marry any- how. They arranged for Mr. Burge to be on hand with a buggy on the night of the 25th of March, and at 11:30 o'clock he drove up and the girl came out to meet him, but her brother Ed intercepted her and carried her back into the house, then came out and shot at Burge twice with a shotgun, but missed both shots. Seeing that there was no chance to see her again that night, Mr. Burge returned home.

On Monday morning afterwards he made another attempt to get her off, but failed again on account of the close watch kept on her by the family.

Last Wednesday Mr. Burge received a note from Miss Sallie, saying she had decided to break off the engagement, which seems to give satisfaction to the parents on both sides. Miss Mathis is a beautiful brunette of fifteen.

SPLIT HIS SKULL.

Bloody Work of an Ax in the Hands of Bob Hollingsworth.

CARROLLTON, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—What will prove a killing occurred out near Hon. B. A. Sharp's Sunday night. It was a row between two families of negroes. Bob Hollingsworth cut Anthony Dorsett with an ax, and it seems now that Anthony will go the way of all the earth are another sun rises.

Sheriff Hewitt captured Bob Hollingsworth, who is now in custody for the crime. Here is Bob's version of the affair:

"Anthony Dorsett came to my house about the middle of Sunday and talked with me a while, and called my wife a liar and then called me a liar, and then I borrowed my coat and went away. He came back later and commenced to row again, when I made him leave the house. He went out, and I thought he was gone, but while he was out and found him in the corner of the yard fence. He got up and struck at me with a pine stick, and I hit him with the blade of my ax."

Bob's wife says that Bob hit Anthony just as soon as he saw him in the fence corner and before Anthony hit him with the stick. Bob says he and Lee Fitts went out and dressed the negro's wounds, and from Dr. Lee we learn that the negro Anthony is very badly cut, and that he will die. His skull is split open and his brain exposed. The negro Bob Hollingsworth has been put behind the bars.

Grading the Road.

ELBERTON, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—An agreement between the Richmond and Danville and the Georgia, Carolina and Northern having failed, the latter has purchased several lots on the south side of Railroad track and are now grading their road on that side. The two tracks will run parallel for about 300 yards, and about fifty feet apart. The people of the town will have to cross the track of the Georgia, Carolina and Northern to get to the depot of the Richmond and Danville.

A Strange Bird.

ALPHARETTA, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Mr. Bud Mathis, who lives on Mr. H. H. Trammell's farm, killed a strange fowl on Big creek last Tuesday. Mr. Bud Trammell brought it to the Democrat office on Wednes- day. It was about two feet high, had long legs and bill, its color was dark blue, and had a plume of three long white feathers on its head. No one who saw it was able to name it.

The Victim May Recover.

ELBERTON, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—Mr. Wash Mulkey, who was called to his door and shot night before last, is still alive and will probably get well. Mr. Mulkey says that Doc Laving shot him. The officers are after Laving.

In advanced age the declining powers are wonderfully refreshed by Ecod's Sarsaparilla. It really does make the weak strong.

THE TRIAL RESUMED.

AND WILL BE CONCLUDED DURING TODAY.

Judge Maddox Puts a Temporary Check on the Fry-Dietz Business—The Course of the Day in the Trial.

ROME, Ga., April 8.—[Special.]—In the courtroom and around that historic and an- cient little edifice a great crowd gathered this morning. Would the McKee case proceed? Would the question upon all lips. Would anything in- teresting to spectators occur between Mr. Dietz and Colonel Fry?

As the old city clock on the tower hill pointed to 8:30, Judge Maddox called court to order.

Mrs. McKee and family occupied their usual places. She was sitting in a very becoming gray costume. Mr. McKee sat by her side. There seemed to be a little more animation portrayed on her countenance than usual. The jurors who were sick were very feeble this morning, but well enough for the case to proceed. Counsel for both sides agreed that the sick jurors could leave their colleagues and be driven in a carriage to the courthouse.

"Before the jury comes in I want to make a few remarks," said the judge. "I have been greatly annoyed by newspaper reports that I have seen as to a difficulty that might occur here this morning."

"I have heard that perhaps some apology might be made. I do not know anything about the difficulty except what I have read in the papers, but one thing I do know, and that is that an attorney has a right to com- ment upon the testimony of a witness on any point that may be warranted by the evidence."

"When he goes beyond that point he is in contempt of court and he is responsible to this court, and I think it is a well-established fact that this court has always made that ruling and adhered to it."

"Now, I do not know anything about this thing except what I have heard, but I want to say that if any apology is to be made, it will be made in this court, and to no one else."

"Any other apology will be considered as the peril of the man who makes it. If there is any man in this courtroom who has any grievance to present, let him present it now."

"There are some other things I want to say. If any man is detected in this courtroom with a weapon on his person, either concealed or exposed, it will cost him just $1,000, twelve months in the penitentiary and six months in the chain-gang."

"If any man in this courtroom knows of any one who has a weapon, he can now step forward and make affidavit to that effect and we will suspend this case right here and try the man who has the pistol the first thing we do."

"I want to say further that if any member of this bar is interfered with in any other way it will cost him $200 and costs and twenty days in the chain-gang."

"That's all I have to say, and now let any- body who wants to interfere with this court begin right now."

After Judge Maddox had concluded his little talk, the jury appeared. Ten men walked in unassisted. Two jurors, however, looked very feeble, and half supported by their colleagues and officers, were borne to their seats. Rock- ing chairs were provided for the sick, and pil- lows were brought to rest their heads on. After waiting for their comfort, the case was opened by Colonel Fry. Colonel Fry made a resume of his Saturday's argument, first on the cer- tainty of circumstantial evidence; second on the confession, and third on flight of criminals. Colonel Fry spoke until 9:30 o'clock.

The third speech of the prosecution then began. Colonel Wright began the case with an argument. He concluded at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Colonel J. F. Wright then began the last ar- gument for the state. This speech was brief, clearly to the point, and had a telling effect. He spoke an hour and a half. At 4:15 o'clock Colonel Wright began the case with an ar- gument. Silver sentences of matchless eloquence flowed in a ceaseless strain, the young orator being at his best. The hour of adjournment arrived, and the court adjourned until 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the argu- ment of Mr. Wright will be resumed.

THE DEFENSE ON THE CASE.

The defense had the opening and conclusion of the case, as they introduced no witness. The case will probably be given to the jury by dinner time tomorrow.

While Seaborn Wright was speaking the crowd was so great that the windows of the courtroom were raised, and a great crowd stood on the outside listening.

Mr. Buice, the father of Mrs. McKee, was quite feeble today, and Mrs. Ora McKee, leaning over toward him, said: "Father, you ought not to be here this morning."

Counsel for the state, in argument today, commented upon the feebleness of Mr. Buice. There is much speculation as to the result of the trial.

The Hill City Cadets are holding a bazaar. Last night was a perfect success, and hands- omely was realized. Several hundred were in attendance. Tonight the special feature is a fancy dance. The bazaar continues for several days.

A Dangerous Period.

As the season moves swiftly toward the bound- ary lines that lie between winter and spring, it frequently happens that the human system, which has borne the strain of winter, shows signs of relaxation. In all ages this period has been noted as a dangerous one, especially to those who have weak constitutions, a course of the great blood purifier and tonic, S. S. S., will enable the most delicate, and the weak and the delicate, but is an additional safeguard for those who consider themselves strong.

BEAUTY IS NO INHERITANCE.

Cosmetics do not Beautify, But often destroy a healthy com- plexion.

Kate Field has made the remark- able statement that the enormous sum of sixty-two million dollars are spent every year by American women for cosmetics, face powders, washes of all kinds, most of which are made of oxide of zinc, corrosive sublimate and other poisonous sub- stances which, instead of beautify- ing the complexion, destroy even a healthy skin. A natural, rosy and healthy complexion can not be had by the use of these cosmetics, but only through the health of the body in general, and nothing is better to secure this result than the genuine imported Carlsbad Sprudel Salt, when taken early in the morning before breakfast—about a small teaspoonful dissolved in a tumbler- ful of water.

The remarkable merit of this Salt, which is produced by the City of Carlsbad by the evaporation of the Carlsbad Sprudel water, has been known to the civilized world for more than five centuries. It has achieved its unapproachable repu- tation and holds it entirely on its merits. It is a natural remedy that is always effective in all disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys. For habitual constipation, gouty and rheumatic affections it is with- out equal. It clears the complexion and produces a healthy color, and is especially recommended for use during the spring and summer months. Be sure to obtain the genuine article which has the signature of "Eisner & Mendelson Co., Agents, N. Y.," on the neck of every bottle and on the outside carton.

A HOLE IN THE GROUND

THAT'S WHAT SAM SMALL CALLS

THE OGDEN UNIVERSITY.

A Sensational Dispatch from Ogden to Mr. Small and a Characteristic Answer from the Great Evangelist.

St. Louis, April 8.—[Special.]—Special reports from Ogden, Utah, indicate that a row is brewing among the Methodists of that place on the one side, and Rev. Sam Small on the other.

The last phase of the trouble is an emphatic telegram sent by the Rev. Mr. Small to Mr. P.

A. H. Franklin, a leading Methodist of Ogden and a prominent man in business circles of the west.

Mr. Franklin is a pillar in the Methodist church, and has taken a very active interest in the development of the great Methodist university at Ogden, of which Rev. Sam W.

Small was elected president some time ago.

Mr. Small recently went east for the purpose of securing funds for the institution. The university has been badly in need of money to meet the demands of the contractors. Everything has been conducted on a grand scale, and the buildings, if completed according to the original designs, will be among the most impressive of the public buildings of the west.

But the work has not been progressing smoothly on account of the trouble in raising sufficient funds to carry on the plans according to the ideas on which the work was begun.

With his account energy President Small ago to show the president of the

the force of his unary for him to

on securing enough

subsidy, which with

Methodist in the east to carry out at once.

The contr-

however, have been anxious to secure the in-

diverdu, and as it has not been forthcoming, they have carried their claims to the court.

A few days ago, Minister J. Wesley Hill, of the First Methodist church of Ogden, called on President Franklin, of the Niagara Mining Company, and a leader among the Methodists, for a conference with him concerning reports from the absent president, who was in the east.

The result of the conference was a telegram from Mr. Franklin to Mr. Small, in which the latter was admonished "to account for funds entrusted to him or legal proceedings would be begun."

Likewise Mr. Franklin wired to several Methodist ministers concerning Mr. Small in a manner that, to say the least of it, was not calculated to help the president of the university in his work of raising funds.

Mr. Small's reply was an indignant and emphatic telegram to Mr. Franklin, in which he defiantly threatened to sue for slander for the outrageous attack of the president of the Niagara Mining Company.

A special to The Globe-Democrat from Ogden says that "no charge of malfeasance in made against President Small, only where is the money he is collecting, or supposed to be collecting, and why are requests to account ignored? The real truth of the story cannot be vouched for, but there is thought to be more truth than poetry in it. President Small is Sam Jones's old fellow-laborer, while all of the parties mentioned are prominent men in the west."

Mr. Small's Strong Denial

The following telegram from Mr. Small is directed to the point.

"PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 8.—Editor

Constitution: The Ogden telegram is a total misrepresentation, inspired by a bitter enemy.

My accounts are ready for full scrutiny from any quarter. SAMUEL W. SMALL."

Mr. Small Interviewed.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—[Special.]—A dispatch was received yesterday from Ogden,

Utah, that P. A. H. Franklin had telegraphed

Rev. "Sam" Small to give some account of money collected for the Ogden University, and that Mr. Small had sent back a defiant

WEDDINGS IN GEORGIA.

MR. MURDOCK AND MISS KIMBALL

MARRIED IN ATLANTA.

Mr. Corrigan Weds Miss Supple, of Millidge-

ville. Other Weddings and Society

Events Generally.

One of the largest and most fashionable and even seen in the city, gathered at the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock last evening to witness the beautiful wedding ceremony which united Mr. William Kimball and Miss

Nellie Lynn Kimball.

It was a pink wedding, and the rose color to be seen everywhere seemed a bright prophecy for the future happiness of the young couple. The altar was richly adorned in graceful East India palms and ferns and many pedestal lamps, with rose-colored globes, cast an enchanting halo upon the scene. Mrs. Arthur Richards' exquisite playing was one of the most beautiful features of the occasion. The processional was the "Old Sentinel" march.

The bride and her maids came down the aisle and were met at the altar by the groom, groom-smen and ushers who entered from the vestry.

The wedding party entered in the following order, the maid of honor coming alone, and the bridesmaids entering either side in couples.

Maid of honor, Miss Jessie Hopkins.

First bridesmaid, Miss Bessie Kimball entered with Miss Mae Kimball.

Miss Irene Lovejoy and Miss Maudie Jones.

Miss Maudie Scruggs and Miss Alice Sturgis.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr.

J. C. Kimball.

Groomsmen—Mr. Walter Robertson and Mr.

Benjamin Carter, of Birmingham.

Mr. John Barr, of Birmingham, and Mr. J. E.

Carlton.

Mr. W. Y. Harper and Mr. John Kimball.

Ushers—Mr. Hall Correll, of Boston; Mr. Louis

Pearson, Mr. Arnold Broyles, Mr. William Matthews.

The groom entered with his best man, Mr. J. E.

Cawthron.

The attendants met the bridesmaids at the pink ribbon and marched in single file; as the bridesmaids took their positions the groomsmen stationed behind them and the bridesmaids with whom they were to leave the church.

The maid of honor, Miss Hopkins, stood behind the bride to hold her bouquet.

Rev. Dr. H. B. Hester, officiating, the beautiful ceremony of the Episcopal church with grace and eloquence.

Miss Kimball made a charming picture of youthful beauty in her wedding gown and white fall. Her long hair had a long train, long sleeves and a Catherine de Medici collar, the sleeves and collar finished with exquisite delicate chiton lace, which also formed a lovely cascade down one side of the front skirt drapery.

The only jewelry worn was a superb pin of pearls and diamonds, the gift of the groom. The white ribbon veil was caught by graceful sprays of lilies of the valley. Lilies of the valley, bride roses and maiden-hair fern formed the bouquet which completed the perfect toilet.

The bride's charming rose-colored crepon gown was demurely, in princess fashion and trimmed with rose-colored chiton.

The bouquets were La France roses. Mendelssohn's music was heard in the corridors and during the ceremony Mrs. Richards played softly the bridal chorus from Tannhauser.

A delightful reception was given at the home of the bride on Kimball street to the wedding party.

The handsome drawing room and corridors were brilliantly illuminated and adorned with palms, and in the supper room the whole effect was rose-colored, the table being decked with pink ribbons and the latter decorated with pink and white being gracefully arranged upon mantels and sideboards. Many elegant presents were received.

At 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Murdock left for their honeymoon, and the bride and groom

from there took a wedding journey to the Pacific slope.

Miss Nellie Kimball has been universally admitted and adored since her wedding in Atlanta three seasons ago. Among her intimates she is beloved and admired for her sweet, unselfish nature and all the qualities that go to the making of an attractive and lovable woman.

MARTINSVILLE, VA.

THE HOME OF THE HENRY COUNTY TOBACCO.

One of the Coming Cities of the Growing South, Holding a Position of the Most Excellent Merit.

MARTINSVILLE, Va., April 8.—[Special Correspondence Constitution.]—I have often heard the reference, "Go to country," made to different sections possessing distinctive merit, but when this is applied to the celebrated tobacco region of Virginia, it is simply an irrefragable truth.

No one can visit this section without being overwhelmed with the rare advantages offered the home seeker and capitalist, both in the way of distinctive wealth, excellent location and astonishingly low values.

If the investor wants to get in on the ground floor, now is the time above all others for him to place his money. Martinsville real estate is as safe as a government bond, and now that the Roanoke and Southern, a great trunk line running from Roanoke to the south, is just completed from Winston, N. C., to this point, values are obliged to show splendid advances.

Martinsville, I predict, will become one of the most prominent towns in the Old Dominion, and for the reader to appreciate the force of the estimate, it is only necessary for him to consider her favorable location, which will show, when her two trunk lines are completed, a road running east and west from a Danville, Va., to Bristol, Tenn., where a connection will be had with the East Tennessee system, and another from Roanoke, Va., through Charlottesville, C. to a connection with the leading lines going south, thus placing her in touch with the commerce of the world.

Martinsville now has a population of 2,500; tax values amounting to $200,000; a tax rate of 4 mills, and an annual trade of $1,500,000.

She has fine, handsome church buildings, showing a combined value of $20,000, representing the various denominations, Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Episcopal and Campbellite, exclusive of four negro churches, a feature that reflects great credit upon her Christian culture.

She boasts of an excellent graded school, under the control of Professor W. H. Parrott and four competent teachers, which shows an enrollment of 200 scholars.

She has a well-offered banking establishment, with a capital sufficient for carrying on a large business.

By way of giving emphasis to her importance as a tobacco center, she has twelve plug-tobacco factories, two smoking tobacco factories, one cigar factory, several prize-ries and two large warehouses for the sale of leaf goods.

In addition to these industries, she has two planing mills, a foundry and a large number of the most substantial business houses, as well as attractive residences, ranging in price as high as $15,000.

Seemingly to realize the importance of their location, the citizens are encouraging the most decided building activity, have a new bank under organization and are already agitating the question of street pavements, electric lights and waterworks.

She has an elevation of 1,100 feet, showing a climate as desirable as any that can be found; water of exceptional purity; a soil admirably adapted to growing the finest chewing tobacco in the world, as well as all the grain crops; the most superior advantages in timber interests, which clearly indicates the importance of the establishment of such industries as carriage and furniture works, and fine clay which calls for the establishment of large brick works.

She also has the most superior water power on Smith river, which runs in two miles of the city, the merit of which has been recently endorsed by the action of Mr. R. J. Reynolds, a thoughtful business man of Winston, in purchasing a large mill on this stream.

THE HAMILTON-GRAVELLY ADDITION.

Anticipating the great advancement of the future, two of the most progressive citizens of Martinsville have bought a valuable tract of land, comprising twenty-six acres of inside property, having a railroad frontage on the Roanoke and Southern road of 2,000 feet, which they have brought into desirability by grading a fine system of streets through the property in such a way as to make every lot accessible for resident, business and industrial sites.

The tract is elegantly located, possessing splendid elevation, and when they have completed the work of grading and surveying which is already far advanced, it will show one of the most valuable purchases that has been made in this hopeful little city. It is a magnificent investment, and the gentlemen having it in charge have shown by their purchase and work of improvement, the most consummate foresight.

A branch traverses the lower side of the property, which makes this spot desirable for manufacturing purposes, and these will be encouraged by the owners granting free rides to all who will build a needed enterprise on the property. There are also several fine springs on the property.

A fine ledge of building stone has also been found on the property, which will be used for street-paving and general building purposes.

These lots will be sold at auction on the 15th instant, on the following terms: One-third cash, balance in one and two years. A splendid opportunity is there furnished for investment in a town that will yet dazzle the world with her brilliant progress. The size of the lots is 50x150.

Mr. C. A. Hamilton, the popular hotel man, and Mr. W. H. Gravelly, a representative young lawyer, compose the ownership of this property, which, of itself, is a guarantee that the investment is a safe one and the improvement well conducted.

SPENCER BROS.

Among the leading manufacturing enterprises of this country, so far as it appertains to the working of plug and twist tobacco, is the factory of Spence Bros.

This factory was established in 1884, and has steadily grown in importance until it now employs a working force of 160, and shows a capacity of 500,000 pounds. The factory is a large, brick building, five stories, 50x120, and has a frame storage house 40x120.

Among the leading brands of tobacco manufactured by them, each one of which has grown into the widest favor, may be mentioned "J. H. Spencer's Best," 12-inch three, made of the finest Henry county leaf, goods whose name shows it to possess the highest superiority. If double charges should be made on these goods it would be impossible to work them finer. "North America," 12-inch three, and 12-inch 8 oz., a very popular brand for which there is a constantly growing demand. "Grand," 9-inch four, which as its name signifies, is a very superior goods. "Golden Spark," similar to the "Grand," has grown so rapidly that the demand cannot be met. "Hickory," 9-inch five, a brand that shows forth the solidity of its name in a most excellent manner. "Will of the People," 7-inch five, and 9-inch five, a similar goods as the "Hickory," one of the best sellers in the world.

Mr. J. H. Spencer, the thoughtful manufacturer, has been fortunate in selecting the most significantly taking names for his various brands, and with his usual good sense has put the highest grades of the celebrated Henry county leaf into his manufactured goods in order to keep them up to the standard of their excellent names. In addition to the above brands, he makes it a point to manufacture special brands for the trade, all of which are very popular. He makes it a point to buy from the barns the best goods offered.

As a result of a practice of using the best sweetening and highest grades of leaf, the trade of this factory has grown so as to make it necessary for an extension of their business. Mr. J. H. Spencer has many strong personal friends among the best trade in Georgia and the south. He is a gentleman popular alike with his own people, being president of the chamber of commerce and having been chairman of the last democratic district convention of the fifth district. The name is also popular in tobacco circles, the father having been in the business for fifty-five years.

PENN & WATSON.

Few firms ever gain the popularity that has followed the career of Messrs. Penn & Watson, and none deserve a more liberal share of public confidence.

Starting the business of manufacturing plug tobacco in 1881, in Martinsville, the present seat of their immense trade, they have built up a trade that covers the entire country, having a capacity of a half million pounds, and working a force of 150. Their factory is a large three-story brick building, well fitted with the best and latest improved machinery.

Buying direct from the barns, these gentlemen have worked up a trade of fine leaf that is second to none. The gentlemen composing the firm are educated in the business, and exercise the most consummate skill in the selection of the leaf, always making it a point to secure the highest grade of Henry county leaf for the various brands manufactured for the trade.

Mr. Penn, of the firm, is a typical Virginia gentleman of the old school, whose sound business judgment and exalted integrity will entitle him to the confidence of the trade.

Mr. Watson, who is well and popularly known throughout Georgia and the south, has been in the tobacco business since he was ten years of age, a fact that thoroughly equips him for the manufacture of the best goods.

Among their best and most popular brands may be mentioned "Tub Rose," 12-inch pounds, known to the trade as a goods of rare and delicious excellence, having taken the premium at Montgomery, where the best Henry county goods were offered. "Little Edwin," 9-inch four, a brand so popular that it cannot be worked fast enough for their trade. "Red Heat," 9-inch four, break pieces seven, and 12-inch four, a brand representing a furnace in blast, an excellent goods that is at once a leader in the mining districts of Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia. In addition to the above they make a specialty of manufacturing brands for the local trade.

This factory has lately engaged Mr. Natt Morris as their manager, who has few equals in manufacturing the weed.

In addition to being an experienced tobaccoist, Mr. Watson, of the firm, is one of Virginia's most progressive citizens, being president of the West End Improvement Company of Martinsville.

STULTZ-SPARROW TOBACCO COMPANY.

Where can one go in this country without meeting up with Stultz AAAAA tobacco? It is almost a household word throughout the section that I have traveled.

Well, these goods are manufactured of the celebrated Henry county leaf which stands without an equal as a fine chewing tobacco, and the location of the factory is here, at Martinsville, the home of the best manufactured product on the market.

The factory, established nearly a half-century ago, has lately had a new organization, owing to the great demands of the trade, and is prepared to do better and larger work than ever. They now have a capacity of 500,000 pounds, and employ a working force of 150, who are not able to keep up with their heavy orders.

The present firm is a very strong one and is composed of Mr. J. D. Blair, senior member, who is president of the Commercial bank, Danville, Va., one of the largest bankers and ablest financiers in the state; Mr. A. D. Stultz, general manager and manufacturer for the company, a son of the father of the industry, is a gentleman of rare practical ability, whose gentle culture has drawn to him as friends some of the leading business men of Georgia and the south. Mr. J. D. Sparrow, of Danville, formerly of Amet, Snellings & Co., tobacco manufacturers, for whom he traveled for three years in the south, where his merit and capacity are appreciated, and last, but by no means least, the newly added member, Mr. C. B. Keese, a young man of the highest business capacity, who was formerly prominent in tobacco circles at Danville. All are gentlemen well trained in tobacco manufacturing.

The leading brands worked by this company are the celebrated "Stultz's AAAAA," which stands at the very top of the most excellent brands of Henry county leaf, a goods possessing too much merit to be referred to in a few lines; "AAAA" and Stultz's Extra," twelve-inch and eleven-inch three, that sell readily among the best chowers on the market; "Sparrow's Pocket Piece," a popular 10-cent, twelve-inch break plug; "Sailie Stultz," a brand that stands deservedly first among all brands of nine-inch four, 15 cent plugs; "Gold Ring," nine-inch four, a brand that is pure gold in merit, and "Marie Stewart," among the best that is made, which represents a leader among the best nine-inch five that are made. Every brand worked by them is made of the genuine Henry county leaf, and represents stock that has been carefully selected from the best barns of the country. "Our Leader" is another popular brand, on which they have built up the most splendid trade. In addition, they manufacture a number of private brands for the trade, that have grown very popular in their respective localities.

This is one of the strongest and most reliable houses in the trade, and goods sent out by them may be relied on as the best.

B. F. GRAVELLY & CO.

The youngest chower in this country knows the rare worth of the tobacco manufactured by this firm. They have started out to build up a trade on the merit of their own manufacture, and their success has been something little short of wonderful. So distinctively is this true that since the establishment of their factory in 1886 they have built up a business of such dimensions that they now operate in a large brick building two and three stories, 60x185, work a force of 200, and show a capacity of 1,000,000 pounds.

Messrs. B. F. Gravelly and W. T. Hodnett, the originators of the business, having awakened to the magnitude of their interests and the wonder of their growth, recently found it necessary to make considerable extensions, and to this end, associated with them some of the leading business men of the south, Messrs. Fred S. Myers and Jacob Edol, of Richmond, Va.; Herman Myers, of Savannah, Ga., and Sigo Myers, of Jacksonville, Fla., representing the tobacco manufacturing of Myers Bros. & Co., Richmond, and the grocery establishment of the same firm in the cities of Savannah and Jacksonville.

Mr. W. T. Hodnett, manager of the business, is a gentleman of large experience and fine capacity, having been in the tobacco business for twenty-five years, much of which was had at Danville, his former home. He is thoroughly acquainted with the Henry county leaf, and his knowledge serves him well in his present extensive business.

Mr. B. F. Gravelly, of the firm, is a native of Leatherwood, the favored section where the weed seems to grow to the greatest perfection, and having grown up with a full knowledge of the plant, is at once a full judge, and consequently a capable manufacturer.

The leading brands made for the trade by this factory are: "Extra Palm," twelve-inch three, which has firm name stamped in plug, is a goods having the highest merit, readily taking its position among the finest chews on the market. "Extra nine-inch four," "Pink Tag," a superior goods having a growing demand, which meets with the most popular endorsement throughout the country. They make other brands that have grown so popular that the trade cannot be supplied. All of their goods are made of the purest Henry county leaf, and their factory fitted up as it is with the best machinery, guarantees the highest manufacturing. The company makes it a point to buy direct from the barns, and their long experience causes them to put the best leaf for their product.

There are no stronger firms in the business than the well known and popular B. F. Gravelly & Co. One great feature in the manufacture of the weed at this point, is the ownership of the buildings vesting in the names of the different firms operating here.

VALUABLE MINERAL LANDS.

Among the valuable iron lands that surround Martinsville, is the magnificent property of Miss Ann M. Hiarston, about eight miles from the line of the Roanoke and Southern road, where is to be found large quantities of the ore, showing an analysis of 70 per cent of pure metallic iron. This property was worked in a crude way before the war, and now awaits the touch of genius and capital. It can be leased from the proprietor on the most liberal terms, and a fortune awaits the investor who develops the property. The tract contains 7,000 acres, and is managed by Mr. John S. Townes, a prominent business man of Martinsville. Another tract of 7,000 acres on Beaver creek, three miles from the town, owned by the same party, is also said to be rich in iron. In addition, Miss Hiarston owns large timber and farm interests in the section.

Mr. John S. Townes, who manages all these properties, has considerable real estate interests of his own, and is now engaged in the erection of a large tobacco manufacturing. Besides his own local interests in resident and business property, he controls twenty-five residences for Miss Hiarston.

OTHER BUSINESS INTERESTS.

Mr. C. A. Hamilton has fitted up some comfortable rooms with a view to going into the real estate business on a large scale.

Messrs. A. S. Gravelly & Co. have gone into the real estate business and have convenient offices.

Investors would do well to correspond with these gentlemen.

One of the most progressive general stores in the city is the house of Messrs. Brown & Poindexter, who carry a large stock of goods, suited to the demands of a growing trade. Mr. Brown is a prominent business man, and holds universal confidence. Mr. Poindexter, a young man of decided capacity and character, the junior member of the firm, is a new accession to the town, having been attracted by the distinctive future of Martinsville.

I deliberately advise investors to place their money in this splendid little city.

IT WAS SUICIDE.

THE CORONER'S JURY INVESTIGATES THE DEATH

Of Charlie Neville, and Finds that He Took the Morphine with Suicidal Intent. Denials About the Morphine.

Coroner Davis held an inquest over Charlie Neville, the young fireman who took morphine in Jacobs' drug store Tuesday evening. The verdict of the jury was that Neville came to his death from the effect of morphine taken with suicidal intent.

Neville's body was sent to Kingston for interment yesterday afternoon.

Where the young man purchased the morphine with which he killed himself has not been discovered. To some it is stated that he had purchased it at Sharp's drug store on Marietta street, and to others he had gotten it at Jacobs' the place where he swallowed it in a glassful of soda water.

It is positively denied at Jacobs' drug store and at Sharp's that Neville bought the morphine there.

Investigation yesterday failed to discover the identity of the young man who gave Neville when he drank the poison. There is no special reason, however, why this young man should refuse to let it be known that he was in Neville's company when he committed the rash act.

There was some talk yesterday about unnecessary delay on the part of the officers in procuring medical attention for Neville, and some censure was attached to the department for locking him up while the arrival of the physician was awaited.

As soon as Neville was arrested, before he was started toward the station house, a telephone message was sent ahead to send at once for the city physician, and have him on hand, if possible, when the man should arrive.

Before the patrol wagon bearing Neville reached the station house, a messenger had gone for Dr. Van Goldsmoen.

Neville's actions were very much like those of a drunken man when brought to the station house, and although it was reported that he had taken poison, the station house keeper did not know whether to believe him or not, and so he was locked up, the arresting officer having sent in no order to the contrary.

Mr. Joines, who was on duty at the station house at the time, says Neville did not remain locked up in a cell more than ten minutes before he was removed by the physician.

From the moment he saw the young man Dr. Van Goldsmoen pronounced him beyond the possibility of recovery, although he did everything in his power to save him.

She is Conscienceless.—The friends and acquaintances of Mrs. John Holiday will be glad to learn that after a long and painful illness she is convalescing.

The Most Desirable

VACANT LOTS IN THE CITY

FOR SALE

AT INMAN PARK

April 15th, at 3 P. M.

MAPS OF THIS PROPERTY WILL BE distributed from my office in a few days. Water and gas pipes have been laid, streets graded, walks and drives perfected, making this residence park a thing of beauty. At the same time, it is acknowledged to be the equal of any portion of Atlanta in elevation, healthfulness and value. Edgewood avenue leads from the center of the city directly through the park, furnishing a magnificent, straight, paved street, with a double-tracked electric railroad line, giving communication with this property every seven and one-half minutes. Some of the best people in the south have built elegant homes upon Edgewood avenue, Elizabeth street, Waverly Way, Euclid avenue, Spruce and other streets. All the surroundings are simply perfect. The city has agreed to continue to make such improvements as are necessary. Ride over this great and prosperous city and make the comparison with other localities, and you will conclude that this is the best place to live in Atlanta. Several expensive buildings of the finest architecture are being erected and more will be erected on these lovely grounds during the present year. It is a great comfort to know that your neighbor will build a fine house you do, that no shanty can confront you. Come in and get a plat, go upon the premises with your wife, and select your lot before the sale. See it. The terms are exceedingly liberal—only one-quarter cash, the balance in one, two and three years, 5 per cent interest. Remember that first-class Atlanta real estate advances annually. You are bound to lose money by waiting.

H. L. WILSON,

Real Estate Agent, No. 3 Kimball House, Pryor Street.

H. L. WILSON,

AUCTIONEER.

For sale on premises, Tuesday, April 14th, 3 o'clock p. m., valuable 26-room residence.

No. 86 Ivy Street.

This central and desirable property is on the best site of Ivy street, between Houston and Wheat streets, with street cars on each. Here is constant income of $167 per month, or a grand home for an elegant and large family. Real estate is advancing very rapidly in this locality. It is only 3 blocks from the Kimball house and union depot. The old citizens fully appreciate central real estate, and are always eager to buy it. I will sell this to the highest bidder. Now is your time to get a valuable house and lot at your own price. It is only a question of a few months before you are bound to have a fine profit on what you pay on the 14th. Men are growing rich every year investing in Atlanta dirt. They are absolutely coming here from all over the United States to invest among us, because of the solid increasing value of Atlanta property. Call for plat.

ABOUT THE CAPITOL.

WELL AUTHENTICATED CASES OF GLANDERS IN TERRELL.

Commissioner Nesbitt Has Investigated It. More Applications for Widows' Pensions—Minor Matters.

Commissioner Nesbitt returned yesterday morning from Terrell county, where he went to examine a disease amongst stock which was thought to be glanders.

Glanders it is, he became satisfied.

The matter was first brought to his attention about three weeks ago.

A veterinary surgeon from Columbus, after an investigation, pronounced it glanders. For several reasons this result was not satisfactory.

Commissioner Nesbitt then sent down Dr. Gray, of Atlanta, to make another examination. He reported that none of the cases were glanders.

But this result was as far from being satisfactory as the other had been, for the disease was spreading, and the people were alarmed.

The disease was not confined to Terrell county, either. One man alone, in Wilkinson county, has lost ten head of stock; and there were other cases in Randolph county. Still others in Taylor county.

Commissioner Nesbitt continued to receive letters, and finally decided to carry an expert with him and make a personal examination.

He left Atlanta Tuesday morning, and Dr. D. O. Lyon, V. S., of Macon, went with him to Terrell county.

Dr. Lyon found indubitable evidences of glanders in three cases that he examined there. He believes it very probable that when the other examinations were made glanders had not developed—but now there is no doubt of it.

The people in Terrell county have taken hold of the matter in earnest, using every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease; killing the sick stock or putting it entirely out of the way, fumigating the stables, etc.

The expense incident to the two examinations by the department comes out of the contingent fund, which is barely sufficient to make the publications required of the department.

"The experience ought to demonstrate to the legislature," remarked the commissioner yesterday, "the need of an appropriation for such emergencies. I urged this at the last session, asking for a part of the fertilizer inspection fees. We have just taken this money, knowing we had none to replace it, and knowing the good of the people demanded it. I am going to press the matter again at the next session. Give us money to spend in these cases of emergency. That's what I call making the department a practical benefit."

More Widows' Pensions. Captain Tip Harrison, superintendent of widows, continues to receive applications for pension blanks for Confederate widows.

The list grows like the bean stalk in a famous fairy tale, and keeps on growing. Chatham county asked for thirty-five at first, and yesterday wrote for more.

Covets wants forty more. Campbell wants twenty more. Fulton got thirty more yesterday.

And so it goes. All these, it will be remembered, are in addition to the original estimates, that figured a total of 4,000 applications.

The legislature appropriated for 600; the first estimate put the number of applicants at 4,000; and there is no telling what it will prove to be eventually.

Fulton county alone shows 225 applicants so far; more than one-third of the number expected for the whole state. A ruling was announced yesterday at the executive department which will serve as an answer to a great many letters received, asking how proof is to be made when the witnesses do not reside in Georgia. Here it is, officially:

"Witnesses who live in another state can testify by going before the judge of the court of record and making the necessary proofs. The judge must witness officially under seal of office, and furnish certificate that the witnesses who testify are known to him personally, and that they are reliable, reputable citizens, entitled to full credit as such."

The pension statute does not fix any method, but this is substantially the kind of certificate required by ordinance of the witnesses who live in Georgia.

INMAN PARK

Residence Lots For Sale

at Auction.

On April 15th, at 3 p. m., the East Atlanta Land Company will sell at public outcry a large number of the most attractive residence lots in Inman Park. This property was withdrawn from the market after the one sale of a year ago, and until the plans of improving the park could be completed. During the past year these plans have been perfected. The city has graded all of the remaining streets and the lots have been graded by the East Atlanta Land Company to correspond. Sanitary sewers have been laid throughout the park; about 9,000 feet of water pipes have been laid, extending along Edgewood avenue, Elizabeth street, Waverly Way, Euclid avenue, Spruce and Waddell streets; and these pipes will be extended along the remaining streets at an early date. Gas pipes have also been laid through all of the above named streets and the Gas Company will extend these as the water pipes are extended. This property might all have been sold during the past year, but the East Atlanta Land Company's policy has been to withhold it until the present complete development of its plans for an ideal residence park for Atlanta.

The property is now to be sold without reserve, and all parties who wish lots are requested to examine the property and attend the sale. We believe no such opportunity will be presented again, and doubtless rare bargains will be obtained.

Terms one-fourth cash, balance in one, two and three years at 8 per cent interest.
